ARCHITECTURE SPECIAL RIBA AWARDS

DEEPSTONE, CASTLE DOUGLAS

Details The site, carved out of a cliffside, offers dramatic views over the Solway Firth. Emerging from a stone plinth, the public area of the upper floor is a contrasting lightweight glazed pavilion set back to create a terrace.

What the judges said "Although the construction is, in the main, substantial and solid, its materials are so much of their context that it appears as a thoroughly appropriate and contemporary enhancement of its place."
